

Advice Channel

It's not just about the money, though.

While we do provide millions of pounds worth of help every year, just as important is the advice and information that we offer to people who may not require our financial support.

The Advice Channel is your place to find out the latest initiatives from experts within the welfare field, get the latest news and information from charities such as Payplan, and read regular updates from our Regional Services Co-ordinator, Sheila Fitzgerald, who will be keeping a blog.

There's also a Weather Watch feature to keep you prepared for any bad conditions.

And our Signpost can point you in the direction of other charities, benevolent funds, and diversity networks, that may be of use to you.
